Service Tip

Is the red out of service light lit on the front of your changer? Inside the machine you will find your controller on the wall of the cabinet. If the controller is a model C-2000 there is a green light on that controller, in normal conditions that green light will be on solid at all times. When the machine goes out of service the green light will start to flash two sequences of numbers. If you count the flashes and refer to the error sheet we have attached, you will see that we have provided some solutions for those errors.
